Women as Medical Educators Spotlight

The AAMC is proud to celebrate Women in Medicine Month (WIMmonth), a time to recognize the diverse contributions of women in medicine. Each year, WIMmonth provides an opportunity to highlight the achievements of women physicians, scientists, and educators, and to raise awareness of the ongoing challenges that women in these fields face.

GWIMS Toolkits are useful resources that will help advance women in leadership roles. These toolkits provide practical guidance and strategies for institutions and professionals looking to foster a more inclusive and equitable work environment. Additionally, GWIMS has piloted the tool (i.e., launching strategies, implementation, and action plans) in preparation for this year’s WIMmonth.

The AAMC Group on Diversity and Inclusion (GDI) and GWIMS hosted an webinar series on various aspects of women of color, speakers from both backgrounds. The goal of these webinars is to share the experiences of schools that are implementing strategies to improve diversity, equity, and inclusion. The webinar series aims to educate attendees on the importance of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the medical profession, and to provide practical strategies for implementing these concepts in institutions.

Bringing visibility to the experiences and perspectives of women of color is crucial. The webinar series provides a platform for these voices to be heard, and a space for dialogue on how to create more inclusive and equitable learning environments. Through this series, we hope to inspire and empower other institutions to take action towards creating a more diverse and inclusive medical profession.

Events and Resources

During Women in Medicine Month, GWIMS will offer a variety of events and resources to support women in medicine. These events will include webinars, panel discussions, and networking opportunities. Additionally, GWIMS will offer resources such as toolkits, guides, and best practices to help institutions create a more inclusive and equitable workplace.

In order to make the world a better place, we must work together to address the challenges facing women in medicine. By supporting and elevating the voices of women in medicine, we can create a more diverse and equitable medical profession that serves the needs of all patients.
